

Democrats “Testing the Waters” for 2016

It is hard to imagine that Democrats are already “testing the waters” for the Presidential election of 2016. Imagine that you are a top political leader in the Democratic Party. Each of the three Democratic Party members below has submitted a resume to you for evaluation. They are trying to see if top party leaders might support their bid for the 2016 Presidential election. Evaluate each candidate and then cast your vote in the “invisible primary, by picking one of the three below. Be prepared to explain why.

Hillary Rodham Clinton

Strengths _____

Weaknesses _____

Joseph Biden

Strengths _____

Weaknesses _____

Julian Castro

Strengths _____

Weaknesses _____

My Vote in the “Invisible Primary” is for _____.

Republicans “Testing the Waters” for 2016

It is hard to imagine that Republicans are already “testing the waters” for the Presidential election of 2016. Imagine that you are a top political leader in the Republican Party. Each of the three Republican Party members below has submitted a resume to you for evaluation. They are trying to see if top party leaders might support their bid for the 2016 Presidential election. Evaluate each candidate and then cast your vote in the “invisible primary, by picking one of the three below. Be prepared to explain why.

Chris Christie

Strengths _____

Weaknesses _____

Marco Rubio

Strengths _____

Weaknesses _____

Rand Paul

Strengths _____

Weaknesses _____

My Vote in the “Invisible Primary” is for _____.