

Find a Photo: Child Labor

We've been studying child labor at the turn of the 20th century. Sadly, there are still places in the world with children laboring long hours for low wages. Find a photo on the Internet showing child labor today. Put the photo into this document below.

Your photo goes in this box.

Tell us about the photo below. Where was this photo taken? Use the details from the photo and any information you found to tell us more about the children in the photo?